BRUCE IS REPEAT RHL CHAMPION

For the second time in only three seasons, Bruce has claimed the League championship, finishing a healthy 4.3 points ahead of Carlos, who led for nearly 3/4 of the season.

Bruce was led by midseason acquisitions Mario Lemieux, Patrick Roy and Pavel Bure, acquired from Mike. Stellar seasons from Gary Roberts and Dmitri Khristich and the usual brilliance of Ray Bourque and Al MacInnis on the blueline blended well with a lineup that featured few weaknesses, if any, indicated by a good showing in all six categories.

Carlos' excellent season featured a balanced attack, led by new Ranger Mark Messier and new Maple Leaf Doug Gilmour as well as a rejuvenated Larry Murphy. Injuries and a letdown in the second half of the season prevented Carlos from capturing a third League title.

BRUCE'S STRONG FINISH

Records after the All-Star Break (January 20th):

Team	GP	W	L	T	Pts.
Bruce	35	24	5	6	54
Chris	35	20	9	6	46
Doug	35	17	13	5	39
Wes	35	16	13	6	38
Manuel	35	15	15	5	35
Kelly	35	12	17	6	30
Carlos	35	10	21	4	24
Mike	35	4	25	6	14

PRIZES, PRIZES, PRIZES!

Once again, the simplest method for ensuring that each of us is paid/paid up is to have someone act as a bank. I nominate myself. Please pay me as soon as possible if you owe money. The winners will be paid as soon as all those owing have paid. Simple in theory, in practice, ... Please help me out!

1992/93

After another wildly successful season, we all want to continue this League, right? Of course. Some things to think about over the summer:

The League could still use about eight more participants to provide a bit more realism (or do you really consider Trevor Linden an "average" NHL player?). Expansion is a great way to improve the top prizes without making anyone risk more money. The most logical way to expand is to take in new participants in groups of two or more. This way they can compete against all teams statistically, but only against each other financially for their first season. This would allow the established teams to retain players as per normal. Any suggestions? Recruit some new people!

I will still volunteer my time and resources to produce these reports in exchange for ten measly bucks per team. Cheap fun!

Some participants in this League didn't get their reports every time they were produced. It is up to the participant to decide on an efficient way to receive them to stay informed of standings, transactions, upcoming waivers and so on. If this sounds like you, please provide me with some postage money next year and the problem will be solved.

Remember that each team may retain up to 13 players currently under contract. Released players and players with lapsed contracts are not legitimate openings for players on the reserve list. Decisions must be made between the players on reserve and their replacements, unless another opening can be created by reserving another player before the auction draft.

Enjoy the Stanley Cup Playoffs and the remaining few weeks of the summer after that. See you all (and some new faces, I hope) in October!
